THIS LITTLE GIRL OF MINE

by Carrie Lutzweller

Her hair is white as snow
Her eyes are blue as the ocean
Her lips are red as coral
This little girl of mine.

Her heart is full of love
Her mind is full of wonder
Her soul is that of God
This little girl of mine.

Her love for all is true
Her love for God is real
Her love for me is genuine
This little girl of mine.

WHAT WOULD IT BE LIKE?

by Carrie Oliver

What would it be like with out him here?
My son is so precious to me.
He has the goofiest smile and does the craziest thing.
When I cry there’s no one else who see’s.
No one else to say I love you.

What would it be like with out him here?
It would be so empty.
No one to aggravate me.
No one to ask me questions.
No one to make me laugh.
Nobody to make me feel like I have a purpose.

What would it be like with out him here?
The silence would be overwhelming.
The emptiness hard to fill.
My dreams pointless.
What would it be like with out him here?
I’m glad I don’t know.
